National Dignity Day

MINEC mobilized for the 30 years of 4th of February

On the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the military rebellion on 4th of February, the workers of the Ministry of People's Power for Ecosocialism (Minec), joined the commemorative mobilization, which arrived at Paseo Los Próceres.

The march of the ecosocialists was led by the head of the Minec, Josué Lorca, who recalled that he was six years old at the time and "I clearly remember the sound of the planes passing over my house in Los Teques, in the capital of the state of Miranda."

"For my family it was the rebirth of hope. I remember that the streets of my neighborhood were marked with graffiti from the same town that said Long Live Chavez! I grew up with that memory and when Commander Chavez appeared in 1998 and gave us a speech," He said.

He recalled that Chavez's harangue in 1998 "showed us a path that we are traveling today."

He indicated that millions of people are Chavez and are in the rally: "The people are Chavez and we continue to accompany Comandante Chavez every 4th of February"

MINEC workers actively mobilized

"We celebrate that every year: the rebirth of hope, the day of national dignity, the date when in Venezuela feels represented by a person they decided to trust," he said.

"We will continue to do so for the rest of our days, because the Bolivarian Revolution is eternal and lives in the hearts of every Venezuelan.

Lorca called for prevention

Minister Lorca: To date, 509 forest fires have been fought

Forest fire season in the country extends until May

The Minister of People's Power for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, reported that to date they have managed to extinguish 509 forest fires.

Through a telephone contact on the program Café en La Mañana, broadcast by Venezolana de Televisión (VTV), he indicated that "509 fires have been fought throughout the national territory, three in the Waraira Repano that we have, of which the one on Tuesday, is the one that has had the greatest spread with two hectares affected, being a calculation an estimate, not a definitive figure".

Lorca pointed out that the fire season begins in the month of December and ends in the month of May, adding that each year, from the portfolio for Ecosocialism, a report is prepared on the incidents that occurred during that period of time.

On the other hand, he urged Venezuelans to take preventive measures to prevent the spread of forest fires, understanding that there are natural fires and arson fires.

In Sucre state schools

Talks on forest fire prevention given

Territorial Unit (UTE) Sucre, of the Ministry of People's Power for Ecosocialism (Minec), promoted talks on forest fire prevention in two educational institutions in the city of Cumaná.

The talks at the Robinsoniana Technical School of Visual Arts "Luis Rowlinson" and the Bolivarian High School, "Antonio José de Sucre" in order to guide the young people on the prevention forest fires.

The activity is part of the actions of the Unified Command against Forest Fires of the Sucre state, and counted, in addition to the Minec staff , with members of the National Institute of Parks (Inparques) Sucre, Civil Protection (PC), the Bolivarian National Guard (GNB), Forest Firefighters Corps, Civil Park Rangers Corps, National Movement of Recreationalists and the Youth Brigade against Climate Change.

In Aragua State

Activate Unified Command against Forest Fires

With the presence of the Minister of People's Power for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, the Unified Command against Forest Fires was activated in the state of Aragua.

In this regard, the head of Ecosocialism explained that "forest fires are anthropic, that is, generated by man or their actions in nature".

"We do have normally forest fires at the Henri Pittier National Park due to attempts to expand the agricultural frontier and poaching. We call on the conscience of all citizens to avoid doing actions that could generate incidents within the natural space", he commented.

The Secretary of Citizen Security, G/D Marlon Dulcey Parada, was present at the event, who pointed out that "they have made great efforts in recent years that have allowed them to maintain absolute control over the issue of forest fires, and of course reduce the number of fires as much as possible. impact of this".

"In that sense, we have acquired new commitments in the revolutionary dynamics, which

The objective is to reduce the impact of forest fires in the entity are also tied to the government program of Governor Karina Carpio, who has indicated, as a special chapter, the need to leverage the spirit of environmental protection in the state. Aragua," he said.

With the aim of promoting the care of protected areas

Initiate series of workshops on nurseries

The workshop consists of 10 modules that include practical activities

To contribute to the recovery and preservation of protected areas, the Ministry of People's Power for Ecosocialism (Minec), began a series of workshops on nurseries.

In this regard, Iza Terán, National Nursery

Coordinator; reported that this first induction is intended to work on "rearrangement of gardening in National Parks, Recreational Parks and Natural Monuments".

"The goal is to create a multidisciplinary team in environmental skills, capable of having professional criteria, which allows them to make appropriate decisions for the well-being of natural areas to contribute to the recovery and preservation of protected areas," she said.

He pointed out that the course "consists of 10 modules with the practice that will be done in the xerophytic garden that is in front of the aviary of the Generalissimo Francisco de Miranda Recreational Park".

"The first module contains the management of crops in nurseries, propagation techniques for each group of plants by seeds, and the second is the management of compost, with formation of piles and maintenance, green manures, rehabilitation and garden design, introduction to landscaping and elaboration of the management of portable gardens of ornamental plants", she explained.

She argued that "this is a pilot plan that we started in Caracas, with a workshop per month that will be developed at the national level, since we have 72 nurseries, and we want to do it with all the personnel who work inside the nursery and those who make life in the National Parks.

Within the framework of the 3R.Nets

Minister Lorca participated in the weekly meeting of the Vice Presidency of Public Works and Services

The Minister of People's Power for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, participated in the customary weekly meeting of the Sectorial Vice Presidency of Public Works and Services in charge of G/J Néstor Reverol.

During the meeting, the upcoming National Congress of Public Services was discussed, an aspect that was explained by the deputy president of the Public Services Commission of the National Assembly (AN), William Gil, who gave details of the methodology that will be used for the organization of the event at the national level.

Likewise, the authorities that make up the Vice Presidency discussed the 3R.nets (resistance against aggression, rebirth of the Homeland and permanent revolution), indicated by the head of state, Nicolás Maduro.

In addition, they discussed what was planned for the sociopolitical 1 x 10 in each of the institutions, and the plan in conjunction with the Federal

Young people commit to the environment

Brigade members against climate change are sworn in Zulia

With the visit of the General Director of Training of the Ministry of People's Power for Ecosocialism (Minec) and president of the National Foundation for Environmental Education (Fundambiente), Jesús Méndez, the first Youth Brigade against Climate Change was sworn in Zulia state.

The activity was carried out at the facilities of the Coastal Surveillance Detachment of the Bolivarian National Guard (GNB), located on the Lake Maracaibo Coast of the San Francisco municipality, where the brigade members carried out a solid waste collection day, in addition to swearing engage with nature to protect ecosystems, voluntarily carry out activities in defense of the earth and promote actions against climate change.

Méndez was accompanied by the environmental authorities in the region, Colonel Juan Silva of the Strategic Command of the Environmental Guardería (CEGA) Zulia, Lieutenant Colonel Rafael Contreras, Commander of the Coastal Surveillance Detachment No. 11; Ubaldo Fernández director of the Zulia Ecosocialist Territorial Unit (UTEC) and the president of the Institute for the Control and Conservation of the Maracaibo Lake Basin (Iclam), Armando Portillo, who is Godfather of the Brigade members. Likewise, representatives of the Tree Mission, the National Institute of Parks (Inparques) and the Movement of Recreators of Zulia attended.

This activity is part of the environmental training offensive throughout the country

Méndez expressed that this is an activity for reflection "we must call our people because we do not have more time, every day our planet is giving us symptoms of deterioration and we must all take action" he indicated.

Likewise, he reported that in connection with these actions, a training offensive was initiated throughout the national sphere.

"We have launched the National Training Program with the Youth Brigades against Climate Change, which brings with it a variety of awareness programs, mural painting, research, environmental education and other attractions for Venezuelan youth," he said.

After the oath, the young people went to the Iclam headquarters to begin their training process in the nursery area.

In the place they were given a brief explanation to know "the relationship that exists between the production of plants and its importance to combat climate change, fundamental knowledge of a brigade member who will face this cause," explained Marianela Noroño, manager of the Exchange and Promotion of Ecosocialist Knowledge and in charge of the Iclam nursery.

"The most effective and economical solution to combat climate change is to produce and plant trees, because they are the only beings capable of purifying the air," stressed Noroño.

The young people culminated with a practice on the site to learn about the various forms of propagation.
