

Safe and Happy Easter 2023

Minister Lorca inspected the Médanos de Coro National Park

As part of the development of the Safe and Happy Holy Week 2023, the People's Power Minister for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, verified the mobilization of vacationers in the Médanos de Coro Recreational Park in the Falcón state, one of the most visited tourist destinations during the holy holiday (More information page 2).

Comprehensive cooperation

Venezuela and Guinea—Bissau signed an environmental agreement

(Page 3)

Social commitment

Minec and Bancamiga consolidate alliances in favor of the environment

(Page 4)

Marine species causes damage when in contact with the skin

Minec alerts presence of "Bad Water" on the coasts of Aragua, Falcón and Yaracuy

(Page 5)

They protect more than 16.45% of the Venezuelan territory

SPECIAL | Park rangers: defenders of life and the environment

(Page 6)

Safe and Happy Easter 2023

Minister Lorca inspected the Médanos de Coro National Park

They confirm the operation of the "Give the Tail to your Garbage" program

As part of the development of the Safe and Happy Easter Week 2023, the People's Power Minister for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, verified the mobilization of vacationers in the Médanos de Coro Recreational Park in Falcón state, one of the tourist destinations with the most visits.

During the tour, the head of Ecosocialism verified the operation of the "Give the Tail to your Garbage" program, implemented by the institution he directs, with the purpose of vacationers depositing garbage in bags and taking it to place it in designated places to collection.

Likewise, Minister Lorca, together with the mayor of the Miranda municipality, Henry Hernández, visited the Meachiche Recreational Park, south of the city of Coro, to comply with the guidelines given by President Nicolás Maduro for this vacation period.

Comprehensive cooperation

Venezuela and Guinea-Bissau signed an environmental agreement

During the closing of the first meeting of the Mixed Commission between Venezuela and Guinea-Bissau, which took place in Caracas on Tuesday, April 4 and Wednesday, April 5, the People's Power Minister for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, through the Venezuelan Foreign Ministry, signed an agreement in the area of Environment, Biodiversity and Climate Change.

The aforementioned agreement is aimed at fostering and promoting cooperation in environmental matters, based on the principles of equality, mutual respect for sovereignty and harmony with nature.

The signed agreement is part of the 15 bilateral agreements in strategic areas of cooperation, which on this occasion, the Venezuelan Foreign Minister, Yván Gil and the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior and Public Order of the African nation, Soares Sambú, signed.

"Comprehensive cooperation that includes human rights, political cooperation with a vision of South South development", said Gil.

He indicated that these agreements are part of an orientation given by the presidents, Nicolás Maduro and Umaro Sissoco Embaló, the latter who made an official visit to Caracas in early November 2022, to strengthen strategic cooperation between both nations and that resulted in the celebration of this first Mixed Commission.

The Vice Prime Minister of Guinea Bissau referred to the importance of southern countries to strengthen cooperation among themselves, deepening what they have in common.

He added that Venezuela symbolizes what cooperative relations between southern countries can be.

Venezuela and Guinea-Bissau celebrated this month the 17th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations, promoted by Commander Hugo Chávez, "as one more symbol of the Bolivarian Peace Diplomacy doctrine of establishing a permanent link with Mother Africa," he said. on one occasion the Venezuelan foreign minister.

It should be noted that since the establishment of relations, Caracas and Bissau have signed 22 comprehensive cooperation agreements.

The Essequibo is Venezuela!

Venezuela will maintain a firm defense of respect for the Geneva Agreement

By asserting that "El Essequibo is Venezuela!", the President of the Republic, Nicolás Maduro, ratified that the National Government will continue the fight in defense of the Geneva Agreement, the only mechanism in force for the resolution of the territorial dispute over the territory of the Guyana Esequiba.

"Venezuelan men and women will continue the tireless and firm fight to defend respect for the historic Geneva Agreement and the territoriality of our dignified nation. The truth accompanies us", emphasized the Head of State through his account on the social network Twitter, @NicolásMaduro.

The statements respond to the position established by Venezuela before the incidental sentence of the International Court of Justice (ICJ), issued this Thursday, April 6, which gives rise to the review of the illegal and fraudulent conduct of the United Kingdom in the Arbitration Award of the October 3, 1899.

In this regard, the Vice President of the Republic, Delcy Rodríguez, pointed out that "our allegations were heard and it was demonstrated what the fraud consisted of that culminated and was consummated in the Award (Arbitral) of 1899".

Guyana Cooperative, he stated in statements offered to the media from the Miraflores Palace, located in Caracas.

Rodríguez reiterated that the Cooperative Republic of Guyana has the obligation to abide by the 1966 Geneva Agreement to settle the territorial dispute.

Venezuela and Guinea-Bissau signed 15 bilateral agreements

Social commitment

Minec and Bancamiga consolidate alliances in favor of the environment

The People's Power Minister for Ecosocialism, Josué Lorca, together with the director of Bancamiga, Alberto Camardiel and the Venezuelan Federico Pisani, director of National Geographic's "The Last Tepuy" currently broadcast on Disney +, addressed topics of great interest around an alliance between the two institutions, especially in relation to the upcoming "Race for the Earth", which will take place on Sunday, April 23.

Camardiel indicated that Bancamiga has a social and human commitment to the environment, and for this reason, they bet on the initiative to analyze the different sources and means of collection for the benefit of the Ministry for Ecosocialism, in National Parks and other entities.

They also talked about how to promote the collaboration and approach of Bank ambassadors such as Federico Pisani and Amanda Dudamel, to the activities and initiatives developed by the Minec for the benefit and defense of the environment, life and ecosystems.

Bancamiga has a social and human commitment to the environment

Marine species causes damage when in contact with the skin

Minec alerts presence of the "Portuguese Frigate" or "Bad Water" in Aragua, Falcón and Yaracuy

The so-called Portuguese man-of-war (Physalia physalis) is a monotypic species of hydrozoan

The Ministry of People's Power for Ecosocialism (Minec), alerted locals and visitors to the coasts of the states of Aragua, Falcón and Yaracuy, about the presence of specimens of the so-called "Portuguese Frigate, Bad Water or Portuguese Galera (Physalia physalis)".

This marine species moves at the mercy of surface currents, whose presence on the aforementioned coasts could be related to the direction and speed of the winds, the temperature of the sea surface and other environmental factors, which make it difficult to develop predictive models for anticipate his presence.

The Portuguese Frigate or Bad Water, has colors between violet and transparent pink, they have extensive tentacles that, when in contact with the skin, cause serious health damage.

The symptoms that these can generate when having direct contact are intense pain similar to that of a burn, gastrointestinal disturbances, respiratory problems and even cardiac arrests, with deaths being recorded all over the world.

In case of observing this species, it is recommended not to touch it either in the sea or on the beach, do not bathe nearby, stay away from the shore where there may be fragments of the animal. If it is affected, you should immediately wash the rubbed area with seawater and remove the remains of the tentacles. Do not apply fresh water, rub or scratch skin with sand or towels, or sunscreen, as this may increase severity.

Likewise, the Ministry of Popular Power for Ecosocialism, made available to the community, the free line 0800-Ambient (0800-2624368) to report the presence of said species or notify possible injuries caused by the Portuguese Frigate or Bad Water.

They protect more than 16.45% of the Venezuelan territory

Park rangers: defenders of life and the environment

The members of the Civil Park Ranger Corps of the National Parks Institute (Inparques) are in charge of ensuring the integrity of people in recreational parks, for the structures of these places, in addition to taking care of the areas under protection in the figure of national parks and natural monuments.

They are hero defenders of the environment who risk their lives daily for the protection of more than 16.45% of the Venezuelan territory, which includes 37 Natural Monuments, 44 National Parks and 65 Recreational Parks, all administered by the National Institute of Parks (Inparques).), an entity attached to the Ministry of Popular Power for Ecosocialism (Minec).

The main tasks of the park rangers are located in the environmental nursery, attention to users, guiding them and providing them with information on environmental conservation, participating in the prevention and fight of forest fires, collaborating in the search and rescue of lost people in recreational spaces, with application of first aid care, if necessary, among others.

Likewise, their mission is to be representatives of the governing body of public policies aimed at the protection and management of the Venezuelan Park System and as a vision to preserve life in protected spaces, to guarantee a supportive, respectful and loving society. peace, this in order to achieve the highest level of biopsychosocial satisfaction of the human being, without destroying the ecological balance in the name of development and production, in the search for supreme happiness.

Currently, the Civil Park Ranger Corps has 5,522 troops with different ranks and categories, prominent at the national level, coordinated by Chief Park Ranger Pablo Lira. In this sense, in the classrooms of the Experimental Security University (UNES), 191 applicants are studying, hoping to graduate in the coming month of July.

Actualmente el Cuerpo Civil de Guardaparques cuenta con 5.522 efectivos

GUYANA ESSEQUIBA REPRESENTS A IMMENSE BIODIVERSITY

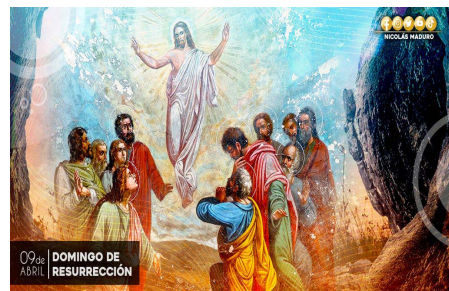

*It's ours
historical right!*

UP TO DATE WITH NICOLAS

@NicolasMaduro
04/09/2023

*A new resurrection Easter arrives to the joy of the Christian People, Jesus has overcome death, has risen, and the hope grows in our hearts that we will be saved and invited to the glory of our Lord, through faith.
Hallelujah, Christ lives!*

@NicolasMaduro
04/08/2023

What a joy to see the Venezuelan family sharing in these days of renewal of hope. In all corners of the country you can enjoy sports spaces, natural beauties and attractions arranged for the living of the people. Happy Saturday!

@NicolasMaduro
04/04/2023

*Mass of sincere prayer, songs and joy for the word of God, which comforts us and inspires us to follow the paths of good shared by our Homeland. Blessings and strength!
Let's go together towards a better future!*

FOLLOW US ON SOCIAL NETWORKS

@MINECOFICIALVE

@MIECOSOCIALISMO

@MIECOSOCIALISMO